Officers from ten area law enforcement departments participated in the seminar, which included training in drug traffic patterns, local drug problems, court testimony, recognizing the drug abuser, drug concealment, clandestine laboratories, drug terminology, conspiracy investigation, raid planning and procedures, evidence handling, legal aspects, undercover, drug abuse, drug identification, and surveillance. The programs were instructed by special federal agents from the drug enforcement administration under the U. S. department of justice, and other agencies.

Snowstorm Adds To Problems Of Region

Calloway Countians were greeted by 1½ inches of snow this morning as the weather situation continues to contradict the date, with spring one week away.

Damage to the bridge on Highway 121 North, Mayfield Road, across Clarks River near Coldwater, has been reported by officials of the local Maintenance Department of the Kentucky Highway Department.

Both sides of the bridge have sunk down due to the high water over the road Wednesday morning, officials said. A highway department official said a flagman was at the bridge all last night warning persons of the damage to the bridge.

Motorists are urged to use caution when traveling the highway, officials said. Some repair work has already been done to the road and bridge area and officials are keeping a close watch on the area.

At noon today local highway officials said the bridge on Highway 121 North near Coldwater will be closed to traffic at four p. m. today and will be closed at least for the remainder of this month.

City Council members joined in requesting that Murray be designated a disaster area by passing a resolution to that effect at its regular meeting last night.

The resolution, similar to one passed Wednesday by the Calloway Fiscal Court, asked for flood relief for businesses and homes in Murray from state or federal funds.

Businessmen or homeowners with flood damage should contact a city councilman or the mayor's office in order to provide a complete list of flood damage.

The National Weather Service lifted its flash flood warning today for Kentucky.

"The threat of heavy precipitation and resulting flash flooding appears to be over," the service announced.

It said, however, that many rivers and streams were still out of their banks and flooding could be expected in some sections of the state.

Classes were dismissed today in Henderson, Owensboro, Dawson Springs and the following county systems: McCracken, Carlisle, Crittenden, Ballard, Livingston, Lyon, Caldwell, Daviess, McLean, Wayne, Russell, Carroll, Gallatin, Graves, and Calloway.

The heavy rains first caused problems in Western Kentucky then switched to the east.

The Weather Service at midmorning revised its forecasts to include a heavy snow warning in the western coalfield, with a 3 to 5 inch accumulation possible by afternoon and 1 to 3 inches in other parts of the state.

The Cumberland River, between Barkley Dam and Smithland, rose about 7 feet after some water was released from the lake.

The three major rivers in the mountains—the Kentucky, Cumberland and Big Sandy—crested or neared their crests Thursday without major flooding. The big problem was overloaded creeks.

Approximately 35 to 40 families in the Newtown section of Pineville and the Four Mile area of Bell County had to leave their homes Thursday. Most of Pineville, however, is protected by a floodwall.

Gov. Julian Carroll activated 20 National Guardsmen to assist in any needed evacuation in the Barbourville area.

The city itself is protected by a floodwall but an estimated 100 families outside the wall were removed to higher ground.

Major flooding is expected to continue in portions of the state for at least 10 days, said a spokesman for the Weather Service.

Council Stops Short Of Vote To Condemn Glendale Property

Action was delayed Thursday night by the Murray City Council on a movement to condemn property standing in the way of the extension of Glendale Road to connect U. S. 641 and 121.

The close vote to table the action ended discussion on the action, which was proposed by Councilman Melvin Henley. Councilman Howard Koenen had brought up again the controversial issue, in which a 60-foot right of way, owned by Howard Brandon, is said to be holding up construction on the road.

After a rather short discussion, the motion was made by Councilman Henley to condemn the 60-foot piece of property and force the sale of the right of way to the city. The motion was seconded by Councilman Art Lee.

On the advice of city attorney Wells Overbey, the motion was substituted with one that called for third-party arbitration on an appraisal of the property, to see if the city could buy the land before condemnation was necessary.

At Overbey's suggestion, the substitute motion called for both the city and Brandon to choose an appraiser, and then the two chosen to select a third party whose decision would be binding. If the proposal was not accepted by Brandon, or if the final appraisal was not accepted by either the city or Brandon, then condemnation proceedings could begin.

Several councilmen appeared opposed to the sudden decision to condemn the property. Councilman Ed Chrisman said "We need the street..." but I am reluctant to condemn..." the property.

In the midst of the discussion came the motion from Phillip Tibbs to table the issue. Seconded quickly by Chrisman, the motion to table gained the vote of six of the councilmen present. Voting against the motion to table, and appearing in favor of proceeding with condemnation proceedings were Councilmen Henley, Jerry Henry, Koenen, and Lee.

There was some question among various council members as to whether or not the state would still complete the paving project on Glendale even if the city acquired the Brandon right of way. It was asked that the city obtain a new commitment from the state that the project would be completed before further action was taken on right of way acquisition.

A budget report by Councilman Henry called to the attention of the council that the city is still spending well beyond its means and its budget for the year.

The city remains just over $100,000 in debt to the revenue sharing fund, which will, according to statements at the meeting, be repaid out of this year's tax collections.

Henry's report showed the police department with the biggest budget overrun, with expenses $1,500 over budget and salaries $145 over budget.

Councilman Tibbs sharply questioned the expenditure of $1,565 for remodeling of the second floor of City Hall. The original estimate had been $700, and the council had not been advised of the extra expense.

Local Heart Fund Drive

Surpasses Goal For 1975

Despite inclement weather on Heart Sunday, the Heart Fund Drive in Murray-Calloway County has surpassed the 1975 goal.

"The people have responded more earnestly this year, despite bad economic conditions and we feel this response indicates one of the reasons that Calloway County ranked 26th among the 120 Kentucky counties in 1974 for Heart fund contributions. Our citizens are just great," says Mrs. Jerry Bolls, publicity chairman.

"Citizens are aware of the toll heart and blood vessel diseases take on our community. Over 150 deaths in our county alone during 1974 were attributed to this No. 1 killer. Several have died during this campaign, emphasizing to us the importance of the Heart Fund," Mrs. Bolls continued. We encouraged people to make use of the Memorial Gift Fund. To make memorial gifts, send the names and addresses of all those involved — yours, the person to be honored, those to be notified. A check or money order should be enclosed and mailed to Mrs. Willard Ails, 1610 Keenland Drive, Murray.

"Businesses have supported a large part of the campaign and we extend our appreciation to them. Heart and blood vessel diseases cost the nation an estimated $20 billion annually, including lost income and payments for medical care," Mrs. Bolls stated. "The business solicitation was done this year by local businesswomen and homemakers. They were dedicated and cooperative and we appreciate their assistance."

Ladies doing this area of work were: Mrs. Gene Bray; Mrs. Wendall Albright; Mrs. Perry Cavitt; Mrs. Adrian Cloys; Mrs. Harold Elkins; Mrs. Joe Pat McCallon; Mrs. Tommy McClure; Mrs. Mary Francis McManus; Mrs. Gene Parker;

Victor Marchetti To Be Speaker At Murray State

Former Central Intelligence Agency official Victor Marchetti, author of the only book in the United States ever to be censored prior to publication, will present a free lecture Tuesday, March 18, in Lovett Auditorium on the Murray State University campus.

Sponsored by the Lecture-Insight Committee of the Student Government Association, the 8 p. m. address will be centered around Marchetti's "The CIA and the Cult of Intelligence," which was the target of a lawsuit by the U. S. government and resulted in a 1972 court order which forbade him from publishing fact or fiction without permission.

When the original manuscript for his work was returned from CIA censors, it contained 339 excisions reportedly made on the grounds of national security. An appeal by Marchetti resulted in another federal judge's ruling that only 27 of these deletions were justified. The matter is still in court, however, as the CIA filed a countersuit.

Marchetti has claimed his First Amendment rights are being violated by the CIA-imposed censorship rule which he claims constitutes prior restraint.

He resigned from the organization in late 1969 and placed many of his anti-CIA feelings into fictional form in his novel, "The Rope Dancer," which described life in a secret agency and told of the differences between myth and reality in that profession.

Lecture-Insight Committee Chairman Roger Watson said, "The presentation should appeal to a wide range of individuals in light of many anti-secrecy feelings which exist today in post-Watergate America."

Four Jailed On Drug Charges In Raid Thursday

Four persons have been charged after a drug raid by Murray City Police, according to department reports.

A police department source said the raid was conducted at 406 South 16th. Arrested and jailed on $10,000 bond were Bruce Pace, 21, of Murray; Terri Lynn Sils, 19, of Marshall County; and Charles Edwin Warren, 20, of Marshall County. The three were charged with possession of a controlled substance, and possession of controlled substance for purposes of resale, according to police. Also jailed on $10,000 bond was William D. Burken, 24, of Benton, who is charged, according to police, with possession of a controlled substance for resale and wanton endangerment in the first degree.

Warrants were signed by City Judge Steve Sanders, who, along with City Prosecutor Don Jones and city police worked most of the night on the case.

Recommendation Made Close University School

A recommendation has been received by Dr. Constantine Curris, president of Murray State University, that the Murray University School be discontinued in its present form after this year.

The recommendation, which came from Dr. Donald Hunter, dean of the College of Human Development and Learning, suggests that grades one through six of the school be discontinued, leaving the kindergarten to continue to function.

Kaj Spencer, administrative assistant to Dr. Curris, confirmed the recommendation in a statement yesterday. "President Curris has confirmed that he has received a recommendation from the dean of the College of Human Development and Learning that the University School in its present form be discontinued. The president has asked that a complete financial analysis of the proposal's impact be prepared prior to any response to the recommendation," Spencer said.

Dr. Hunter, contacted this morning in Frankfort, said the recommendation was made after extensive investigation and consideration. Hunter said the recommendation after observation of the operation, projection of enrollments, and of the activities that will be possible in light of these predictions.

"This recommendation was not entered into lightly," Hunter said today. He added that the two key factors in the operation of the university school are service to the community and laboratory experience for education students at the university.

"Both these factors were considered extensively before the recommendation was made," Hunter said.

Dr. Curris said this morning that a "programmatic analysis and a financial analysis" will be made to determine if such a recommendation should be passed on to the board of regents.

Curris said that a financial report of the impact of the closing should be ready in about a week, but that an academic analysis of the issue could take longer.

Curris added that input will be gained from many different sources before he decides finally whether or not to recommend to the board the closing of the school.

The president said this morning that he has not had time to look into the matter, since he just returned to Murray from Washington. He explained, however, that the recommendation by Dr. Hunter is only a recommendation to the president, and not to the board of regents. The board would have final authority on such a move, and more than likely would await a recommendation from the president before even considering a decision.

Meanwhile, parents of students attending the elementary school are apparently preparing for a fight against the closing of the school.

Mrs. Mary Lou Abbott, current president of the University School PTA, said this morning "We as parents had no indication that this (the recommendation) was going on." Mrs. Abbott said that the parents had organized last year, and "tried very hard" to build enrollment back after tuition increases. She added that new programs were being introduced, and had felt that "we were on the upswing."

"This came as a total shock," Mrs. Abbott said. "We're trying to do something. We're going to fight."

The PTA official said that a letter was sent home to all parents, asking them to indicate if their child will be attending the school next year, in an attempt to determine what the enrollment would be next year. Mrs. Abbott said that since enrollment was a prime consideration of the recommendation to close the school, that figures would be necessary in an attempt to fight the closing.

Just under 100 students are enrolled in grades one through six at this time.

How to strike non-stop speakers silent

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: We had a couple over last week, and when one started to talk, the spouse interrupted to talk about something entirely different. Both continued talking to both my husband and me in this manner throughout the entire evening. At one point in the evening, the husband and I were talking, and his wife interrupted by shouting my name: then she addressed a question to me which was completely unrelated to the subject I was discussing with her husband.

I cannot do justice to two conversations at one time, especially when each is trying to be heard over the other. This lack of consideration for each other strikes me as being very rude, but I may be wrong.

By the end of the evening I was completely exhausted. What does one do when he finds himself in this kind of predicament?

MINNEAPOLIS STAR READER

DEAR READER: When someone interrupts a conversation, it's perfectly all right for you to interrupt the interrupter with: "Please excuse me, but I can listen to only one person at a time. Would you mind waiting until we have finished?" The interrupter will probably be struck speechless. And wouldn't that be lovely?

DEAR ABBY: I don't know how to say this, but I have a problem that's driving me crazy.

I am 22 (a female) nicely built, so I've been told, and the only thing I don't have is a rear end. The front of me is really nice, but I just don't have any behind at all.

My clothes would fit me so much better if I had a little something there. Can you help me?

NEEDS A REAR

DEAR NEEDS: I can't. But write to Frederick's of Hollywood and ask about their foam rubber fannies. They are the living end!

DEAR ABBY: I just discovered that the man I've been going with for 14 months has false teeth!

Marty's teeth looked so lovely and natural, I never suspected they weren't real. He ate everything, and his kisses were the best.

Last week Marty's physician suspected Marty had polyps in his nasal cavity so he sent Marty to an ear and nose specialist. I went with him.

The specialist told Marty to take his teeth out, and when I saw him there with his sunken cheeks and puckered lips, I shuddered. He looked so old.

Ten minutes later, with his teeth back in, Marty was his handsome, youthful self again. I still care for him, but I can't bring myself to kiss him.

He thinks I'm losing interest in him, and maybe I am. How can I get over this foolish hangup?

LET DOWN

DEAR LET: The thought of how Marty looked sans choppers is turning you off. Forget it. (Are you sure you don't have a few false things going for you, too? There aren't many who are 100 per cent natural.)

CONFIDENTIAL TO OLIE DUNLAP: You asked if any readers (other than yourself) had ever lived to help a daughter celebrate her 50th wedding anniversary. Yes. Hundreds of them. So far, the record is held by a 104-year-old Indian woman who says she helped her 89-year-old daughter celebrate her 73rd wedding anniversary.

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

For Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send $1 to Abigail Van Buren, 132 Lasky Dr., Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212. Please enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped (20¢) envelope.

Income Down, Costs Up

At the end of 1974, U.S. farmers were receiving 4 percent less income than they were at the end of 1973. Farm production expenses, however, were up 16 percent for the year. Sharpest jumps in expenses were for fertilizer, building and fencing material, machinery, farm supplies, seed and feed. Sharpest drop in revenue was the market price for feeder cattle.

What Is The Answer?

By Bill Dees
Rt. 5, Murray

Why is the United States in such grave trouble and what is it that makes us continue to believe we are the directors of the world? For a number of years our top political office holders have contended that it was our duty to police the world and to furnish military and financial aide to those underdeveloped countries who were willing, or pretended to be willing, to accept our way of life. In most cases only carrying the pretence for enough to continue to receive our handouts.

While I thoroughly and firmly believe charity from the heart is great and good, yet I find it hard to accept and understand the method of aide and help the United States offers to countries around the world. It is hard to understand how a country that in the past several decades has been unable to live up to its so called ideas and principals which it offers to various underdeveloped countries around the world.

Allow me to say at this point, that I was born in the United States of America, that I love the principles and morals of a small minority of our citizens. That - being the love of God, and fellow man, and regardless of where or what color you were born, your first obligation is not to country, but to God. If you do sincerely love God and you serve him, then regardless of what country you live in, there is a peace within.

The United States along with several countries has become so educated in the fields of science that they have completely moved away from God. So it's little wonder as you look around, not only in the United States, but the world over, there is so much unrest, murder, thievery, and refusing to admit God even exists. Just this morning, on the early morning national news, I heard the second highest office holder use God's name in vain, with no apparent thought or care. He was cursing God because he had failed to realize his boyhood dream to some day become president, and felt that he has reached an age that will prohibit him from ever becoming president.

For the past number of years we have seen our churches and religion grow larger and larger. But the assigned duties of the church and the religious people become less apparent. That is to say, while we have untold millions of people professing religion in the United States, it's becoming more difficult each day to find anyone who is willing to take a complete stand for God and his commandments. Many preachers today are afraid to preach the gospel, but instead preach a watered-down, man-designed, man-pleasing sermon. This is our real problem, not only with religion and churches but with people.

Now we the people are the United States and the government, and if we would like to solve our energy problems and inflationary problems, unrest at home and yes, even abroad, the solution is really a simple one and readily available at no cost, except a sincere desire and a willingness to believe, trust, and obey the commandments of God. Now, when and if we do these things, then would we be able to offer true charity and love to our brothers and sisters around the world.

There is no record anywhere in the history of the world which shows that man on his own can devise anything of a permanent nature. Many cultures in the past have arisen to high and great things only to reach a point of self destruction. At our present pace, there is no doubt, we have almost arrived at the point of self destruction. While we are taught by the Holy Bible that as long as we have life there is still hope that we can change our direction and serve God. Experience teaches me that it becomes harder each day we put it off. So the time for accepting and learning of God and his plan is while we are young and in school.

Now we decided some years back, that it was alright to pledge our allegiance to the United States Flag and that for which it stood in the schools. But it was not right to pray and thank God for his goodness, ask for his guidance for ourselves and our fellowman, because this might offend someone. Of course we have for ourselves and the world to see the results of this action, and we have in fact offended God with our actions. Thus the results are the numerous problems and unrest the world over. If you love God and keep it a secret, you love to no avail, but if you love God and you are willing to publicize it in deeds and words as well, then your gain is peace on earth and eternal life after death. There are still many God loving people on earth, who are striving to fulfill Gods commandments, and yes, there are untold millions who are busy whitewashing, watering-down, and various other ways of tearing down and destroying at a rapid rate.

To be religious in our present day society, all that is required of you is to place your name on the roles of some church and attend occasionally, and contribute a portion or some portion or any portion of your cash. Then you can remain a member for as long as you desire, while drinking, cursing, carousing and yes, even taking the Lord's name in vain. Results of this so called religious living is, broken homes, broken hearts, and our present world conditions. Why did we take such a simple plan that God laid down for us and build it into the present mess we have now? Well, it's really quite simple. We were willing to follow the dictates of Satan and what we thought looked like an easier plan.

But if you can take a minute and ponder over the past years of your own personal life, it's really quite easy to see that Satan only painted a false illusion. Now that we have seen both sides and are fortunate enough to still be alive as an educated and intelligent race of people. Why in the world are we still willing to destroy ourselves and all those who will follow us? Now is the time for each and every one of us to fall down on our knees and pray this simple prayer.

Dear Lord God. Forgive me for my sins and save my soul for I ask it in Jesus name and for his sake. Amen.

Now this is a simple act. But this is only a beginning and we must constantly study and search God's word for his truths. That we may learn what it is he would have us to do to further his plan for us here on earth. Now the solution is a simple one and only requires your sincere and complete effort. Before it is too late. Won't you take this personal message and just try it. For it really, really does work.

WE HAVE A RELATIONSHIP

By H. C. Chiles

All who have trusted Jesus Christ as their personal Saviour are the children of God the Father, and through the merit of the Son have the invaluable privilege of approaching the throne of grace and having intimate fellowship with their heavenly Father.

Hebrews 8:12

The old covenant did not achieve the purpose for which it was made, but God was not the cause of its failure. God regarded the Israelites as a peculiar treasure, but they refused to be a dedicated people and to continue in faithfulness to God as they had promised to do when they entered into the covenant at Sinai. Therefore, they were the cause of the failure of the old covenant. Readily these disobedient people claimed their privileges, but they refused to assume their responsibilities, so God permitted defeat and disaster to strike them.

When the Israelites refused to obey God and to permit Him to use them in the redemption of others, they broke their covenant with God, and it was no longer in force. Then, God spoke through Jeremiah about a new covenant which He was going to make with the people of Israel. This new covenant was not to be written on stone, but upon human minds and hearts. Rather than being carnal and outward, it would be spiritual and inward. This new covenant, which was promised through Jeremiah, did not become operative until Christ came, and it superseded all other covenants.

Christ, our High Priest, came and made salvation available to sinners and then returned to the Father without stain. Superior to all others, He is sufficient for all of our needs. His sinlessness, strength, sympathy, sufficiency, and supremacy make Him worthy of our complete trust, highest admiration and praise, and of our most faithful obedience and loyalty.

The first covenant could not meet the need of sinners. It could reveal sin, but it could not remove it and save sinners. The Mosaic covenant was never intended to save sinners. Its purpose was to reveal to man his inability to live a life that is pleasing to God. When Christ forgives and saves sinners, He brings them into spiritual fellowship with God. Under the old covenant this proper relationship with God could be kept only by obedience to the law. Of course, that was an utter impossibility for man through his own efforts. Under the new and better covenant, that which could not be achieved by human efforts was made possible through the grace, love, and mercy of God. It is the privilege of God's children to have a true knowledge of Him based on and as an outgrowth of a personal experience of fellowship with Him. Under the new covenant every believer in Christ is a priest, and it is the task of every one to share his knowledge of God with those who do not know Him. Let us do our best in this glorious work!

Hebrews 10:19-25

"The holiest" refers to the place in the ancient tabernacle which the high priest alone entered once each year and sprinkled blood on the mercy seat as an atonement for his sins and those of his people. Just as the blood of animals paved the way for the high priest, the blood of Jesus Christ has removed the barrier of sin and enables the forgiven sinner to have direct access to God. Every Christian has the privilege of access to God through Christ, and it is also his duty to approach Him. We should "draw near" unto God to confess our sins, to request His forgiveness, to worship Him, to praise and thank Him for the numerous blessings which He has bestowed upon us, and to commit ourselves to Him for use in His service.

The Christian draws near unto God when he engages properly in the solemn exercises of private devotion and public worship. Worship of God is a glorious opportunity, a supreme privilege, and a solemn duty. Let us draw near to Him with pure hearts and clean lives.

"Let us hold fast the profession of our faith." Christians are urged to be true to the avowal of their faith in Christ on the ground of the faithfulness of God in fulfilling His promises.

"Let us consider one another." This word "consider" speaks of attention, consideration, care, and thoughtfulness. Involved in this exhortation is a greater thoughtfulness, thankfulness, prayerfulness, and helpfulness. Let us put our minds to the task of thinking of others - their beliefs, needs, and longings. Let us so incarnate the spirit of Christ that our conduct will cause others to want to live the kind of life and to do the kind of works they see exemplified in us.

God's Word enjoined and His Son practiced public worship. They should go to church to worship God, to hear Biblical instruction, to enjoy Christian fellowship, to receive spiritual inspiration, to prove their love for Christ, to commit themselves to God for use in His service, and to set a worthy example. If Christ has the preeminence in our lives, we will not neglect to worship God publicly and regularly.

It is utterly impossible for anybody to do his best for God and humanity without the strength which comes from the worship of God. Church services provide an opportunity to instruct believers, to strengthen their faith, to incite them to good works, to increase their love for Christ and their devotion to Him, and to introduce unbelievers to Christ. If Christians do not enjoy assembling for prayer, praise, instruction, exhortation, and worship, it is because Christ does not have His rightful place in their lives, which is that of preeminence. Your presence in the worship services with regularity says much to those who see you there. It encourages and helps others tremendously. Those who are in close fellowship with God are faithful in their attendance upon the worship services of their church.

Three Things Jesus Gave Up For Us

By Paul D. Wanger
Calvary Temple First
Pentecostal Church of God

Jesus is the only begotten son of God. He paid the ransom for our souls, and has become our high priest, who is now seated on the right side of the Father interceding for us.

Jesus gave up his riches so we could become eternally rich. Consider the riches, the beauty, the glory he had with the Father in Heaven; yet he gave it all up and came to this earth so we could have eternal riches. Jesus was born into a poor family. He was laid in a manger at birth. He never owned any property, and was buried in a borrowed tomb. Yes Jesus became poor that we might be rich in eternity.

Jesus gave up his home so we could have an eternal home. No words can describe the home Jesus left in Heaven when he came to earth to walk among men. He said, the foxes have holes, and the birds of the air have nest; but the son of man hath no where to lay his head. Yes Jesus gave up his home so we could have a home in Heaven. St. John chapter 14 declares that Jesus has gone to prepare a place for us where we can live eternally with him.

Jesus gave up his life so we could have eternal life. Jesus suffered a cruel death on the cross at Calvary that we might live. He willingly gave his life blood that we could be cleansed from our sins. He arose from the dead and ascended to the Father that we could have hope in the resurrection, and eternal life. When I think about what Jesus has done for me I want to give him my all in complete dedication. How about you?

An Injection To Help Control Cancer Growth

By F.J.L. Blasingame, M.D.

BLASINGAME

An application has been made to the Food and Drug Administration (FDA) by Lawrence Burton and Frank Friedman, Ph.D.s, in Great Neck, N.Y., for permission to conduct clinical trials with terminal cancer patients. These researchers, after two decades of work, believe that they have isolated from animal and human blood materials which shrink cancers.

These studies were done first on the fruit fly and then on the mouse. In the latter, the researchers used a strain of tumor mouse that has a 100 per cent incidence of mammary tumors. They believe that is better to use such a cancer model rather than one into which the tumor is transplanted.

Drs. Burton and Friedman reason that it is preferable to study the whole animal and the relationships between it and tumor as cancers exist in real life.

The researchers experimented for years and developed a technique for separating out the active antitumor fraction from blood serum by the use of the centrifuge. In this manner, a larger amount of the fraction can be obtained from blood.

Although the exact chemical make-up of the active fraction is not known, the two antitumor substances contained several ingredients they act to assist the immune system to cancer victims to fight the tumor.

Both antitumor substances are necessary to fight the cancer. Though the make-up in humans is different, the same basic ingredients are present in man that are in the mouse.

Therefore, the researchers reason that the benefits which have been observed in the mouse are likely also to result in treating cancer in man.

The benefits of injections of the active serum fraction on the tumor in the mouse are amazingly dramatic; a large, hard breast tumor softening within an hour following the injection. The serum fraction appears to be nontoxic in its effect and works in an unknown way to assist or stimulate the body's immune system to cause repression of the cancer.

Quoted in a recent issue of Modern Medicine, Dr. William Terry, chief of the immunology branch of National Cancer Institute, when asked to give his opinion regarding the significance of the work of Burton and Friedman, replied, "Anything that can control tumor growth is significant."

Q. Mr. G.V. inquires about the kind of diabetes that is not sugar diabetes.

A. Diabetes mellitus is the regular sugar diabetes associated with a deficiency in insulin. Diabetes insipidus is due to a defect in the pituitary gland at the base of the brain and is characterized by the passage of large quantities of urine, requiring replacement of the fluid. Fortunately, diabetes insipidus is not a common disease.

Q. Mr. R.O. asks whether the safety of saccharin is still under study by the government.

A. In 1972, following a report of bladder tumors in animals fed saccharin, it was placed on a limited-use basis. Studies have been done by the government in the meantime, but the results are inconclusive. Saccharin is currently being continued on a limited-use basis.

Homesteading: Buy An Abandoned House For One Dollar, Restore It

Editor's Note: A pioneer could get 160 acres in the Wild West if he promised to settle and cultivate the land for five years. Today's urban homesteader gets a house for $1 if he agrees to renovate it and live there.

By NICK TATRO
Associated Press Writer
Irma Jones, a welfare mother of two in Rockford, Ill., and Daniel Frawley, a young lawyer in Wilmington, Del., are urban homesteaders. Both live in houses they bought for $1.

Their houses, both in marginal neighborhoods and needing major repairs, were virtually unmarketable a year ago. Today, they are model homes for a self-help rehabilitation program under way or planned in dozens of the nation's cities.

"The idea is to place vacant units back on the market and stabilize the neighborhood," says Edward Martin, a former top official in Wilmington's homestead program and now a policy analyst for the National Association of Housing Redevelopment Officials.

"The benefit to the cities is obvious: it gets houses back on the tax rolls. But the major thing is that the program allows people who would never be able to own a house to have one."

There are an estimated 200,000 vacant and abandoned houses in the nation and plans are under way to rehabilitate thousands. But since Wilmington launched the first program in August 1973 only a few hundred have been homesteaded because of bureaucratic delays in acquiring houses, screening applicants and setting up loan funds.

"The bureaucratic process is slow," says Asst. Secretary H.R. Crawford of the Department of Housing and Urban Development. "But the program is moving forward now and we expect it to do well."

HUD has made 4,000 repossessed homes available to cities for rehabilitation.

The homesteader lucky enough to get a house risks his money, labor and often personal safety in moving into a rundown neighborhood.

The homesteader's downpayment is "sweat equity" — he paints, polishes floors, lays tile, hangs wallpaper, builds cabinets, puts in windows, landscapes or even adds a new roof.

Mrs. Jones, 26, became a homesteader last August. She won one of 10 houses offered in a drawing to 44 persons, those found qualified after 700 applicants were screened in Rockford.

From a city loan fund of $50,000, she got a $3,700 loan at 9½ per cent interest and moved out of a $135 a month, two-bedroom apartment where she lived with her two girls, aged 5 and 7.

"The landlord raised the rent from $127 and I don't know what I'd have done without homesteading," said Mrs. Jones, who spent two months painting, hanging wallpaper, putting in bathroom tile and fixing up her furniture. A contractor did the heavy work.

She saved hundreds of dollars in rehabilitation costs and despite an income of less than $400 a month, she owns a four-bedroom house.

Tired of commuting 30 miles a day, Dan Frawley, a 32-year-old E.I. DuPont lawyer, and his teacher-wife Bonnie began homesteading in Wilmington in October 1973. They started with a boarded-up eyesore.

"I put $17,000 into it and I consider the house in very good shape," he said. "You couldn't touch this house for $35,000 in Philadelphia where I used to live — and its only four blocks from my office."

"We did a lot of decorating. I did all the demolition work and my wife finished the floors. We got a professional contractor for the electrical and plumbing work."

Frawley says he became so enthusiastic about homesteading he bought the house next door and is now rehabilitating it. But five of the 28 original homesteaders in Wilmington have given back their houses.

The District of Columbia gave away 13 HUD houses in a drawing last July and plans to offer 10 more in March. There have been no dropouts.

Raymond Horton, a 47-year-old electrician who works two jobs and has four children aged 4 to 19, is hard at work on a three-story home in the Capitol Hill area of Washington. He expects to move in by June.

"If I contracted this job it would be more than $20,000, but I expect to save about half that because I can buy wholesale and the labor is my own," said Horton.

Thomas Bridgeforth, 34, a forklift operator, is still working on his two-story, grey row-house in the northeast section of Washington.

The work is being financed by a $17,500 loan at 6 per cent interest from the District of Columbia Development Corp., a public authority with $168,000 to loan urban homesteaders.

"The only problem has been waiting; they did all the work," said Bridgeforth, who first applied for the house in December 1973.

Bridgeforth, who supports a family of four on $13,000 a year, said he could "never afford a house without homesteading — the downpayment is a killer."

His wife, Vera, added: "People kept saying how nice it must be to get a house for $1, but it's really not just $1. We paid $207 in taxes, $45 for title insurance, $70 for fire insurance and we haven't even moved in yet."

Nadine P. Winter, a city councilwoman and former director of a nonprofit community group that launched homesteading in Washington, says she believes "sweat equity" should be a requirement.

"As it is now, it's discouraged," she said. Other officials say only 2 of the 13 Washington homesteaders have put in any significant labor of their own.

"I believe urban homesteading is the solution to the housing problem," she said. "The studies we did show 60 per cent of the rehabilitation cost is labor and I'm saying people have to learn to do it themselves."

For homesteading to work on a big scale, Mrs. Winter says it must dovetail with self-help programs such as Manpower. "My idea is to get contractors, bankers, builders and labor unions together and show people how to do things. It could even work in building new houses."

But in Rockford, homestead official Ron Hallstrom disagrees. "There is no way to effectively test the skills of a homesteader to see if he can do the major repairs," he said. "Such work affects not only the homesteader but his neighbors and we want nothing less than a licensed plumber or electrician."

Housing industry still in slump

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Though the housing industry will begin to recover from its worst slump in recent history and the outlook for the housing consumer will begin to improve by the middle of 1975, the immediate outlook remains grim for the housing industry.

The November rate of building permits, a precursor of future building, fell to an annual rate of 720,000, the lowest rate in modern records and construction firm failures and unemployment in the building trades — already more than twice the national average — will continue to increase for the next few months. — CNS

Hall And McGuire Not Happy Over NCAA Tourney Drawings

By BOB COOPER
AP Sports Writer

Despite the suspicions of at least two coaches, the NCAA has assured the sporting world that pairings for the first round of its tournament beginning Saturday were drawn strictly by lot.

Kentucky Coach Joe B. Hall and Marquette's Al McGuire had their doubts after their schools were paired in the first round and tapped as one of three nationally televised games.

Those three games include five of the top 10 teams in The Associated Press Poll, along with No. 17 Texas-El Paso, which faces No. 1 Indiana in the first televised game of the day.

"It's a necessity of life that television tells you what to do, only common sense," McGuire said, adding that it's nothing more than "charades" to pretend otherwise.

Hall called the pairing "nothing more than exploitation," but said he was too busy getting ready for the tournament to "find fault right now."

"I do plan to have a statement later and might want to talk to the NCAA about this thing," Hall said.

Dave Cawood, publicity director for the NCAA, said the coaches' suspicions were completely groundless, adding that only the luck of the draw pitted Kentucky against Marquette in the first round.

However, he said, the NCAA did have an agreement with the National Broadcasting Co. to allow NBC to pick which games it would televise at 12:10, 2:10 and 4:10 p.m., EDT.

The network thus had no control over the pairings, but only over the time of day three games would be played, Cawood said.

"For that very reason," that some might suspect television intervention in the draw, "we had local (newspaper) writers make the draw and had others here to verify it," Cawood said.

Naturally, he added, NBC picked the matchups with the greatest viewer interest: Indiana-UTEP, Kentucky-Marquette and Alabama-Arizona State.

In the latest AP poll, Marquette is No. 5, Kentucky is No. 6, Alabama No. 8 and Arizona State is No. 10.

Had No. 3 Louisville drawn No. 4 Maryland in the first round of the Mid-West regional, Cawood said, the television network likely would have picked that game instead of one of the others.

However, Louisville drew No. 16 Rutgers in the first round while Maryland goes against unranked Creighton.

While he was on the subject, McGuire also suggested the NCAA abandon its policy of having conference championships determine some insured berths in the NCAA tournament.

Winners and some runners-up in 15 conferences got automatic bids in the newly expanded tourney this year.

The dream came to an end for tiny Sedalia Thursday night as the Lady Lions were stunned 56-44 by Paducah Tilghman in the semifinals of the First Region Tournament.

A near-capacity crowd in the spacious Mayfield High School gymnasium nearly raised the roof late in the game when the Lions mounted a comeback but even the deafening noise of the mass of Sedalia fans wasn't enough to shake the Tilghman girls.

With the win, Tilghman goes to 18-6 on the season and will play in the championship game at 2 p.m. Saturday against Carlisle County, a 59-44 winner Thursday over Ballard Memorial.

Sedalia brought a perfect 17-0 record into the contest with Tilghman. In all of those games, the Lions had never even trailed one time. But it didn't take long for Tilghman to change that.

Lightning-quick senior guard Opal Hamilton took the opening tipoff and scored from under the hoop to boost the Tornado into a lead. Sedalia did not manage to get its first lead until the 4:01 mark of the period when freshman guard Jennifer Flood hit on a fastbreak to give the Lions a 5-4 edge.

For the rest of the period, the two teams traded baskets and Tilghman led 10-9 at the quarterstop.

With 3:46 left in the half, Flood hit her first free throw chance to tie the game, at 16 apiece. The second shot fell off but Flood rebounded and scored to boost Sedalia ahead.

But the Lions couldn't pull away. And by halftime, the Tornado led 26-22.

Sedalia got its last lead of the game at the 3:00 mark of the third period when super center Brenda Davidson scored from under to give the Lions a 32-30 edge. Then Leolo Greer of Tilghman followed with a three-point play and Tilghman never looked back.

By the end of the quarter, Tilghman had moved its lead out to eight points at 41-33.

Sedalia hit a free throw for the first point of the last period. Then Tilghman sacked eight straight points and with 4:31 left in the game, Sedalia trailed 49-34.

But the proud and hustling Lions didn't give up yet. They made one last attempt by running off eight consecutive points and trimming the Tilghman lead to 40-42. But Tilghman regrouped itself and worked the ball inside and the Lions were left with the loss.

"Greer and Hamilton really swept the boards for us," said Tilghman Coach Betty Ormes.

"Our press was one of the keys for us. We had to keep from getting the ball in the frontcourt because we knew Davidson was a great shooter. So we feel we took away a lot of their offense with our press."

"Our girls were here early to watch the first game and I thought that might have been a mistake," Ormes said.

"I was afraid they would build up the wrong kind of tension."

Sedalia Coach Ken Wray said it was the muscle that decided the game.

"We made a run at them but they were just too strong. Davidson had a lot of pressure on her and she got tired in the second half and that was a big key."

"She just had too much strength to go against on the boards."

Davidson, a terrific player who obviously has watched Bill Walton play many times because her style under the basket and from the side is just like that of the former UCLA great.

She finished with 21 points while Flood also added 10.

For Tilghman, Hamilton, without a doubt the quickest player in the entire Region, fired in 21, guard Laura Lynn added 14 and center Greer tossed in 13.

In the opening game, Ballard Memorial, which had lost twice previously to Carlisle County, started the game out by roaring to an early lead and by the end of the first period, the Bombers led 13-8.

But the second canto, behind a fine fullcourt press, the Comet girls outscored Ballard 19-7 and led 27-20 at intermission.

The second half found Carlisle County running almost at will and increasing the margin to as much as 21 points late in the game.

The contest was filled with fouls as the officials blew 35 fouls on the Comets and 28 on the Bombers.

Janet Compton led the attack for Ballard with 17 points while for the Comets, junior Laura Petrie fired in 19, senior Karen Fleagle 12 and eighth grade guard Lisa Bean added 10.

Ballard ends its season with a 13-11 mark.

Carlisle County will carry a 14-5 mark into their championship clash Saturday afternoon against the 18-6 Tornado.

Jabbar Unleashes His Wrath Against Hawks

By The Associated Press

Kareem Abdul-Jabbar took out his wrath against the Atlanta Hawks this time instead of the officials.

The massive Milwaukee center, who had unhesitatingly blasted the officiating after fouling out in the Bucks' previous National Basketball Association game, lashed out at the Hawks with 41 points Thursday night in a 120-104 rout over Atlanta.

"Things went all right this time," said Abdul-Jabbar in reference to the refereeing. "I have no further comment. Once is enough."

The victory lifted Milwaukee within one-half game of idle Detroit in the fight for the "wild card" playoff berth in the Western Conference.

Rookie Mike Sojourner

topped Atlanta with 23 points.

Cavaliers 104, Lakers 85
Fred Foster's 20 points and Bobby Smith's 18 paced a balanced Cleveland offense that carried the Cavaliers past Los Angeles, the team with the worst record in the Western Conference.

A 19-2 spurt during a six-minute span of the second period, which boosted the Cavs from a 33-32 deficit into a 51-35 lead, was decisive. Campy Russell's eight points and Austin Carr's five sparked the spree.

Cazzie Russell topped the Lakers with 23 points.

Knicks 116, Trail Blazers 103
Earl Monroe had a gamehigh 29 points and Bill Bradley added 25, but it was reserve Mel Davis' 13 points in the fourth quarter that keyed the Knicks' 10th consecutive victory over Portland at Madison Square Garden. Davis got 11 of his points during a 17-4 surge that carried the Knicks from a precarious 93-91 lead into a commanding 110-95 advantage.

Sidney Wicks led Portland with 26 points, two more than Geoff Petrie.

Braves 122, Warriors 103
Buffalo's Bob McAdoo, the league's leading scorer, broke loose for 39 points, including 27 in the second half, and grabbed 24 rebounds in propelling the Braves to a record 43rd victory of the season.

McAdoo led Buffalo to a 41-point fourth period which erased an 83-81 Golden State lead after three periods.

The Warriors' Rick Barry, second to McAdoo in the scoring race, led Golden State with 29 points.

1-2-3 Punch Gives Nets Win Over San Antonio

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — New York Nets Coach Kevin Loughery says he knew what to expect when he came to San Antonio Thursday night to meet the Spurs in an American Basketball Association game, and he came prepared.

It paid off as the Nets defeated the Spurs 108-94 behind their 1-2-3 punch made up of Larry Kenon, Julius Erving and Brian Taylor.

The game was the only action in the league Thursday night.

Loughery said after the game that two weeks ago the Spurs surprised the Nets with a fourth quarter rally with a sudden rush.

"Tonight we didn't let it happen," Loughery said. "When they made a run at us in this game, we were able to stop it. When they got too close we took a timeout to try to break their momentum and it worked."

The Eastern Division leaders got 29 points from Kenon, 28 from Erving and 25 from Taylor while shooting 59 per cent from the floor.

"Taylor was credited with five steals," Loughery said, "but I think he actually had closer to ten. He was well over the court and he was able to control the tempo for us. Kenon had a super night at both ends of the floor, scoring and on defense."

San Antonio Coach Bob Bass had praise for the Nets' defense.

"It did a super job on us," he said. "I think we played good enough defense to win if we had stayed tight. If we had kept ourselves together neither team would have scored more than 100 points."

San Antonio got 21 points from Swen Nater and 20 from Donnie Freeman. It was the fourth consecutive loss for the Spurs, who are struggling to stay in second place in the Western Division.

McCord And Armstrong Leading At Doral Open

By BOB GREEN

AP Golf Writer

MIAMI (AP) — Jack Nicklaus failed to get it home again.

He had a good round going and couldn't finish it.

Nicklaus, who blew the title in the Jackie Gleason Classic with a collapse over the last seven holes, had it five under par and was two strokes clear of the field when he prepared to hit his second shot on the 18th hole Thursday in the first round of the $150,000 Doral Open Golf Tournament.

He hit it in the lake to the left of the 18th green.

It led to double bogey 6.

"I turned something exceptional into a 69," said Nicklaus. "It's disappointing. I had a chance to get a couple of shots in front and I let it get away."

Instead of a couple of shots in front, his 69 put him one behind co-leaders Gary McCord and Wally Armstrong, who matched four-under-par efforts in the gusty, whipping winds that swept the 7,028-yard Blue Monster course at the Doral Country Club.

Nicklaus was one stroke off the pace and tied with former Doral champion Mike Hill, long-hitting Jim Dent, Bobby Mitchell and Larry Nelson.

Lee Trevino rallied for a 70, just two shots back and in strong contention, after shooting an erratic 39 on his front side.

Johnny Miller struggled to a 72 in winds he said were "the strongest I've seen since the British Open."

McCord led in the 1974 Bing Crosby and Armstrong in the Houston Open of the same year. Both let it get away. Neither has yet won.

Each had successful shots in the mini-tours—McCord won $80,000 and Armstrong $40,000 in about 18 months—before qualifying for the major tour in 1974.

Grevey Player Of Year Hall Coach Of Year,

By BOB COOPER
AP Sports Writer
LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Joe Hall and Kevin Grevey are so close to a monopoly on SEC honors. Too bad they have to part.

Hall, in his third year as Kentucky's basketball coach, was voted Southeastern Conference basketball Coach of the Year Thursday and Grevey, his star player, was selected as the league's No. 1 player.

It's the second time for both for the honor and each has only been at it for three years.

"Mighty, mighty nice," Hall said when he was told that the Associated Press had awarded him the honor. "Any time a coach gets an award like this, it's a great," Hall said. "But the gift really should be for the players who earned this for me and our total organization."

"Sometimes people forget that there are a lot of people behind a coach, but my assistants are as much responsible for this honor as I am."

"I'm just lucky that I'm the guy to get it," Hall said.

Grevey, a 6-foot-5 senior from Hamilton, Ohio, also praised his fellow teammates for his success this season as he led Kentucky to a co-championship of the SEC and a berth in the Mid-East Region of the NCAA Tournament.

"Oh, it's quite an honor, and I had the same thing two years ago, but it's the rest of the team who hustles that makes me look good," Grevey said.

Hall said he expects Grevey to play professional basketball, perhaps as a guard, but Grevey himself isn't at all sure of his future.

"We've done so well and we've got so much to do that I can't think about next year," Grevey said.

Hall, in his third year at Kentucky, said, "Any time a coach gets an award such as this by an organization as important as the Associated Press, it's a great honor for a coach."

"This whole thing is a gift for my players and our whole organization. Lots of people forget that when a coach wins an honor, it isn't him, it's the organization and the people behind him," Hall said.

A Look At Region Semifinals

The first semifinal game tonight in the Regional Tournament is another one of those "flip a coin" games.

Twice this season, Mayfield has beaten Carlisle County. And as the old saying goes, it's tough to beat a good team three times in one year, even more so when that third time is in a tournament.

Mayfield didn't look bad Tuesday in their 65-60 win over Lone Oak, though quite a few Mayfield fans thought the Cards didn't play very well. Fact is, Lone Oak played a super game, aggressive and always scrapping.

Meanwhile, Carlisle County probably feels bad about only beating Murray High by nine points. After all, they had beaten them 104-66 earlier in the year. Of course, though the Comet players knew it, the team they beat Tuesday was almost completely different than the one they had manhandled earlier.

So actually, although fans from both schools weren't impressed with Mayfield or Carlisle County, you have to give credit where its due, to Lone Oak and Murray High for playing outstanding games in underdog roles.

What about tonight? Can the Comets contend with Eddie Williams?

I think so.

Robert Martin is almost 6-3 and as far as leaping ability is concerned, has the edge over Williams. Both are outstanding shooters. The Comets will almost certainly try to run a box-in-one on Williams with Martin probably in the back and Thomas Jenkins fronting, plus with a weak side forward coming in to the middle, giving the Comets their triangle for the rebound.

Both teams shoot very well from outside. If there is a distinct advantage for either team, it's the bench strength and Mayfield has the edge there.

Though it's really tough to predict any game in a tournament, for some reason I have this feeling that Carlisle County is about due. They've come so close in the past four tournaments but haven't made it. So I'll go on the limb and pick the Comets to win tonight.

The second game can be summed up in one word: Wells.

Both of them.

Sophomore Mike Wells injured his knee in a nasty fall Tuesday and had to be helped off the floor. After the game, he was barely able to walk on it.

However, Mike said this morning the knee is okay and he'll be able to play tonight. As for James Wells, he's going to have to stay out of foul trouble. Otherwise, the Lakers will be out of the game early and Paducah Tilghman will walk into the championship.

Tilghman is awesome.

They play a very aggressive man-to-man defense and will double up on the man with the ball. They hit the boards as well as any Tilghman team in the past few years.

Wells must stay on his feet on defense. Because if Tilghman works the ball under and Wells goes off the floor, he'll be out of the game early.

A lot of the burden will fall on guards Tommy Futrell and Fly Beane. They must have good outside shooting nights because it will be extremely difficult to work the ball inside against Tilghman.

Mark Miller, always a good shooter from outside, will have to head toward the goal anytime a shot goes up because the Lakers will need every available man inside for the rebounds.

It will take a super, super effort for the Lakers to defeat Tilghman. It can be done if James Wells is able to stay in the game and perform to his ability.

Sedalia Girls

You really have to sort of feel sorry for the Sedalia girl's team today.

Going into last night's game with Paducah Tilghman, the Lions were 17-0 and had never even trailed once during the season.

But against the lightning-quick Tornado, the Lions weren't really a match. Tilghman was just too physical.

What the Sedalia girl's team has meant to that tiny community is almost impossible to describe.

The entire lower section of one side of the Mayfield gymnasium was packed with people from Sedalia last night. And the top half of the same side was packed solid, with almost everybody being for Sedalia, though there's no way they could have all been from Sedalia.

Even the Mayfield Invitational Tournament for boys didn't draw the crowd the Sedalia girl's team did last night. And for all the fans, the players and the cheerleaders, you gotta feel sorry.

It's been so long since Sedalia has had a winner in anything and you really wanted to see the Sedalia girls make it to the State Tournament. But with four of their starters back next season, including the super-talented Brenda Davidson who could start on many of the boy's teams in the Region, they'll be back next year.

Win Meals At Rudy's

Charles Miller of 207 Woodlawn and Hal Crouch of Calloway County High School both won free meals at Rudy's this week.

They correctly answered the following question: What player holds the record for the best scoring average at UK as a sophomore? The answer: Cotton Nash in 1961-62 averaged 23.4 points per game.

Also getting the answer right, but not winning free meals, were Tommy Pasco and Calvin Gibson.

For winning the contest, both Miller and Crouch will receive up to $2.50 of their choice on the menu at Rudy's.

We'll continue next week with the contest and the only rule is that you can't win two weeks in a row and you must call at the designated time.

Thompson Named All-America

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — North Carolina State's David Thompson is an All-America for the third straight year—his shouldn't surprise his fans, his coach or the pro scouts.

Thompson, everybody's darling, was named to The Associated Press 1975 All-America team Friday along with Notre Dame's Adrian Dantley, Dave Meyers of UCLA, Luther "Ticky" Burden of Utah and Indiana's Scott May.

John Lucas, Maryland's distinguished guard, made The AP's Second Team for the second straight season. Along with Lucas on the Second Team, a nationwide panel of sports writers and broadcasters selected Syracuse's Rudy Hackett, Gus Williams of Southern Cal, Alabama's Leon Douglas and Kentucky's Kevin Grevey.

The Third Team included, Clyde Mayes of Furman, Phil Sellers of Rutgers, Richmond's Bob McCurdy, Lionel Hollins of Arizona State and Ron Lee of Oregon.

The 6-foot-4 Thompson was an obvious choice for the first team after a magnificent season which produced 30 points a game and plenty of thrills for Wolfpack fans. An electrifying player with superhuman leaping powers, Thompson's specialty was a home-made "alley-oop" shot where he sailed above the basket to take a teammate's lob for an easy field goal.

His most explosive performance this season was a 57-point, 17-rebound show against Buffalo State. But he had other performances almost as remarkable.

Pro scouts have described Thompson as "the most devastating player in the college game today."

The 6-5 Dantley, a scoring machine for Notre Dame who takes charge of a game when the occasion demands, is praised for his "strength, agility and great body control."

Dantley scored more than 30 points a game this season, rising to the heights against Notre Dame's toughest teams. He scored 60 points in two games against UCLA, 32 against top-ranked Indiana and 29 against Maryland. His biggest game was a 49-point effort against Air Force.

Meyers improved tremendously over last year, when he only averaged 11 points a game. Meyers averaged 19 points this season and was the UCLA stabilizer.

Burden, a 6-2 junior, averaged nearly 30 points a game, including a season-high 44 against the Brazil International team and North Carolina.

The 6-7 May is the No. 1 player on the nation's No. 1 team.

Wooden Worried Over Injury To Dave Meyers

By DAN BERGER
AP Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — John Wooden is worried and that means trouble for Michigan in the NCAA basketball playoffs.

Wooden, fearful more of complacency than anything else, put his UCLA basketball players through a strenuous workout Thursday because All-

American forward David Meyers is injured, just as UCLA begins a quest for its 10th NCAA title in 12 years.

Meyers, a 6-foot-8 defensive wizard, suffered a charley horse in his right thigh three weeks ago in Seattle when the Bruins lost to Washington by 22 points. He played in three games since then but his rugged duel with Southern Cal junior Bob Trowbridge last week-end hurt the injury.

UCLA was to leave early this morning for Pullman, Wash., for the Saturday night NCAA Western Regional game against the Wolverines, second place club in the Big Ten with a 19-7 record. Montana plays Utah State in the opening game.

UCLA and Michigan met last year in the Bruin Classic at UCLA. The Bruins won 90-70 despite the presence of Campy Russell, who has since graduated.

"But they have four players returning from that team," Wooden said before Thursday's practice, "and any team that makes it into the NCAA tournament is capable of beating any other tourney team on a given night."

Wooden recalled the complacency which apparently set in a year ago in the second overtime of the NCAA semifinal game against North Carolina State.

UCLA held a seven-point lead with three minutes left, then played give-away and lost 80-77, halting the Bruin string of national titles at seven in a row.

The doubleheader at Pullman is one of two scheduled for the NCAA's West Regional playoffs Saturday. Arizona State, 23-3, CINCINNATI (AP) — Cincinnati Bengals defensive lineman Bob Maddox won a continuance on a drug charge until March 27 following his arrest at his apartment here Wednesday night in a raid by agents of the Regional Enforcement Narcotics Unit (RENU).

A spokesman for Bengals expressed disappointment at the arrest of Maddox, but took no action in the case. The team immediately fired reserve quarterback Mike Ernst in 1974 following his arrest on a drug charge.

RENU agents said they confiscated 24 ounces of Hashish during the raid.

While the NCAA teams waited to play, the teams in the National Commissioners Invitational Tournament at Louisville, Ky., started play Thursday night. Drake upset 13th-ranked Southern Cal 80-70 behind Larry Haralson's 20 points and Arizona blasted East Carolina 94-78 behind the combined 50 points of Bob Elliott and Al Fleming.

New Orleans and Old Dominion advanced to the finals of the NCAA's College Division II tournament at Evansville, Ind. New Orleans upset Assumption 84-73 and Old Dominion stunned Tennessee State 77-60.

GOD'S SERVANTS

Christ taught his disciples that we are all God's servants, including Christ Himself. Before the Last Supper when the disciples were gathered together Jesus filled a basin of water and began to wash their feet. He said "I am among you as one who serves." (Luke 22:27). He meant this as an example for all men to follow. Serve the Lord with gladness. Become one of God's servants.

Humphrey Agrees To Pay Back Taxes On Deduction

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey has agreed to pay back taxes plus 6 per cent interest on a deduction of nearly $200,000 that the Internal Revenue Service has disallowed, an aide says.

The Minnesota Democrat, who served as vice president from 1964 to 1968, claimed a deduction of $199,153 on a donation of vice presidential papers to the Minnesota Historical Society.

But because Humphrey imposed restrictions on public access to the papers, the IRS disallowed the deduction, according to David Gartner, an administrative assistant to the senator.

Joe A. Walters, Humphrey's attorney, said the IRS has not yet computed the back taxes due. Humphrey said he paid $200,991 in federal income taxes for the years 1969 through 1972, when the deduction was claimed.

Gartner and Walters said Thursday the IRS raised no question about the legality of the gift or the value of $309,475 which was placed on it. The objection was based on a regulation that prohibits deductions for "gifts of a future interest," they said.

Humphrey's contract with the Historical Society restricts public access to the vice-presidential papers for 25 years.

Anyone who wishes to see the papers before then must get the senator's permission. The IRS says that means Humphrey retains an interest in the papers and that they do not qualify as a charitable deduction until after the limitation expires.

Walters said the IRS began an audit of Humphrey's returns in 1973 after he publicly stated that he had claimed the deduction. The disclosure came shortly after former President Richard M. Nixon revealed that he had claimed deductions of $482,000 for gifts of his vice presidential papers to the National Archives.

Everybody ought to have at least two 1964 Rolls Royce limousines.

Well, Guy Harper, at Murray Upholstery Shop, has had one, anyway, for about three months.

The car, owned by an out-of-town automobile collector, received over $4,000 in upholstery work on its interior at Harper's shop.

The maroon interior was done with ten Scotland cowhide skins. New carpeting and felt headliner was also installed.

Harper said the car was in good shape to begin with, but the owner just wanted the new interior. A new paint job was done at the shop of Gene Burken, and the car will also be cleaned up in Murray. Cunningham Auto Repair also did some mechanical work on the car.

The vintage vehicle will be worth around $50,000 when the refinishing work is complete.

The auto features not one, but two bars; two extra foldout seats in the rear; a soundproofing center window; two radios, and many other items not found in your everyday family car.

Harper, who spent three months on the interior of the car, said to his knowledge it is the most expensive upholstery job ever done in Murray. The local upholstery man also expects to do similar custom work on two Dusenbergs autos and a Bentley in the future.

Hollenbach Calls For Public Debate

HAZARD, Ky. (AP) — Democratic gubernatorial candidate Todd Hollenbach says persons seeking public office are obligated to debate campaign issues and that Gov. Julian Carroll is no exception.

"I don't think a man has the right to say that he wants to serve as governor unless he will stand before the people, debate the issues and let the people decide," Hollenbach, a Jefferson County judge, said Thursday, repeating a challenge to Carroll for a public debate.

Carroll, who is seeking nomination to a full term, has said he would not meet any candidates in public debates prior to the general election.

Old Tools of Physics May Become New Environmental Tools of Analysis

by
Dr. Louis Beyer,
Assistant Dean
College of Environmental Sciences
Murray State University

The experimental physicist has long been visualized as a rather disheveled character working long hours in a cluttered laboratory surrounded by incomprehensible equipment. This picture is not necessarily undeserved, particularly with respect to the array of specialized and expensive machinery. The highly specialized nature of physics research coupled with a sometimes limited amount of direct social application has led to a communication gap between the public and much of the physics research community.

The role of the physicist is, however, changing with more emphasis being directed toward applying the specialized skills, knowledge and equipment of science in today's society. The Congress realized the need for such emphasis, establishing (in 1970) a new branch of the National Science Foundation, called Research Applied to National Needs (RANN). Hopefully, other programs will be established by both private and governmental agencies to promote application of existing expertise to regional, state and national goals.

A typical example of a new application of physics knowledge and experimental equipment to social need deals with the analysis of elements such as lead, mercury, and cadmium in air and water samples. The method, called Proton Induced X-ray Emission (PIXE), utilizes the tools and techniques of the nuclear physicist to determine how much of each of the elements is contained in water or air samples under analysis. The procedure involves using a relatively small "atom smasher" to accelerate sub-atomic particles (protons) to extremely high velocities.

These energetic particles collide with atoms of the sample under analysis, producing considerable disturbance or "excitation" within the atomic structure. Within a few millionths of a second, the "excited" atoms will rearrange themselves into their normal structure and emit x-rays in the process. The significant fact is that the x-ray energy emitted by an atom is characteristic of that specific element. Physicists have developed x-ray detector systems which receive and record the number of x-rays of each emission of energy. The number of x-rays emerging from each element within the sample determines the amount of each element in the sample.

The PIXE method has several advantages over conventional analytical techniques. It is far more sensitive for some elements than other methods, with sensitivities approaching a few parts per billion. PIXE also produces data for many elements simultaneously, rather than requiring a series of laborious sequential investigations, one for the amount of each element present in the sample. In addition, the PIXE techniques of trace element analysis are potentially attractive on a cost basis. Admittedly, the initial equipment outlays are large, but scores of physics laboratories around the country have the major items already in hand. Many of these laboratories are amenable to utilizing the equipment for national needs on a non-profit basis.

The PIXE method is an example of a new and relatively undeveloped but extremely promising tool. If it and other scientific methods of trace element analysis to be developed, their benefits will be enormous. Most work in trace element analysis has of course been directed toward monitoring dangerous constituents of the environment, such as lead, and mercury. However, as new methods produce greater sensitivities, we may learn more about causes of bodily irregularities. For example, if it were found that one-tenth part per billion of a particular element was in blood samples of persons known to have malignant tumors while absent in healthy individuals, a test would have been developed to detect cancer, and perhaps even determine some catalytic effects causing it. The example is conjectural but one which should give continuing impetus to applied research in many areas where pure scientific research has been the major area of emphasis.

Mrs. Sanders Named As Director Of Bank

Mary Warren Swann Sanders was elected to the Board of Directors of the Bank of Murray to fill the vacancy created by the death of Leonas E. Wyatt. The appointment was made at the Tuesday meeting of the board.

Mrs. Sanders is the third generation of her family to serve on the bank board. Her grandfather, the late Warren Stanley Swann, was elected president of the Bank of Murray when the bank was recognized in November of 1932. In February 1937, her father, the late William Gatlin Swann, was elected to the board to fill the vacancy created by the death of his father. He served in this capacity until his death in 1953.

The new bank director has extensive real estate holdings in the city and county and expresses a strong economic interest in the area and especially in the Bank of Murray. She is a graduate of Murray High School and

Employees Of Fisher-Price To Share Profits

More than 4,400 employees of the Fisher Price Toys today received their second payment of profit sharing for the 1974 year, over half of a $3.9 million total.

Approximately 350 employees of the Murray plant will participate in the profit sharing and receive more than $213,000.

"We're particularly pleased to be distributing this percentage based as it is on a year in which there was conservative buying on the trade level and increased costs in all areas of our operation," said Henry H. Corde, president of Fisher Price.

While Fisher Price experienced a slowdown in shipments during the last year, the firm in the calendar year ending December 31 had sales of approximately 148 million dollars up from 138 million dollars in 1973.

A division of the Quaker Oats Company, Fisher Price is the world's largest manufacturer of preschool types. The company has three west New York plants and a new facility in Murray. Additional interests are in Texas, Mexico, United Kingdom, France, Germany, and Belgium.

He noted that there was little the council could do but pay for the extra expense, since the paneling and other materials were already installed. The extra expense was partially blamed on the need for fireproof materials that had to be used in the remodeling.

It was pointed out to the council that only two alternatives are available in the budget-overrun issue: either curtail services provided by the city, or else come up with more money from some other source.

A statement was adopted by the council to the effect that the Murray Water System will devote all its time in the coming months to work necessary within the city. The water system had been accepting work outside the city, such as sewer connections. Supt. John Trotter reported to the council that, at least for a few months, the system needs to devote most of its time to work needed within the city.

Purchase of a fluoride feeder for the Murray Water System was authorized by the council. The feeder, which will cost $2,330, is necessary to comply with state health specifications.

A bid from Taylor Chevrolet was accepted for three cars for the city was accepted. The cars will be leased for three years for the gas, water, and fire departments. The lease price for two of the cars will be $119 per month, and the third, a station wagon, will be $134. The price includes all maintenance and tires, and all costs except gasoline and insurance.

Four high-pressure sodium street lights were approved for the Highway 121 Bypass area by the council. The original proposal by Councilman Melvin Henley called for 11 such lights, but other councilmen questioned the installation of lights in an area where there were no houses or businesses, from 16th Street east to 12th.

The feasibility study on central billing and central purchasing for the city is "off the ground," it was reported by Councilman Rex Alexander. Alexander said the study is proceeding well, and should provide the council with a recommendation by early summer.

Purchase of two radios to replace the 20-year-old units

Bill Wearren, owner of the Burger Queen Restaurant on North 12th Street, presents a check for $100.00 to Randy Brandon, treasurer of the Vocational Industrial Clubs of America Chapter of the Murray Vocational Education Center. Looking on are Jim Davis, night manager of Burger Queen and secretary of the local VICA Chapter, and Bruce Shaeffer, auto mechanics teacher and VICA advisor. The money will be used to send club members of the District Skill Olympics and State Skill Olympics in April.

Weather

"Today, tomorrow, for the next week, we will have flooding in various sections of the state," said hydrologist Russ Durham. "It will inundate bottomlands, and some communities without flood wall protection will require some evacuations."

More snow was expected to add to the problem, with an anticipated accumulation of three inches predicted for some sections.

"It would be better not to have anything, but if we have to have anything, it's better to have snow than more rain," Durham said.

Major flooding has been reported in the state for the past two days, and at least two deaths were attributed to the surging flood waters. An 8-year-old girl tumbled from a footbridge into the swollen Cumberland River and a man riding a canoe on the same river drowned when the craft overturned.

Widespread property damage has been reported, and authorities said hundreds of persons were forced to flee their homes.

In Hopkinsville, for example, Mayor George Atkins Jr. said "the devastation was unbelievable."

"I never knew what a flash flood was," he said. "I had always heard about flash floods but couldn't conceive of what it meant. You could just stand and watch it go up over a house or building."

The flash flooding took the Hopkinsville residents by surprise because it hit "areas that have never flooded before," he said. "The residents were amazed. It all happened so fast."

The last major flood to strike the city was in 1957, but then only the downtown area was affected, he said. A flood control wall was then built "and if we hadn't had that the downtown area would have been about five feet under water."

He said more than 160 houses were inundated, and that damages would run into the millions of dollars in Hopkinsville alone.
